Personal Home Page

From the home page, you can view all available services: you can review the submitted data, edit it, and proceed with abstract submission.

At this stage, you can choose whether to submit the abstract for LUPUS or for CORA

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

From here, select “Submit an abstract” (LUPUS or CORA).

The abstract submission form is divided into 4 sections, and the submission deadline is always displayed at the top of the page throughout the process.

WE REMIND YOU THAT:

- Abstracts must be original. The LUPUS-CORA Congress accepts encore abstracts presented at other conferences previously, but it is advisable when possible to include updated research or analysis data to highlight the progress of your research and keep the information in the abstract up-to-date. If some of the data in the abstract is previously published in a journal or other congress proceedings, it is the author’s responsibility to confirm with the publisher whether the submission of the abstract for LUPUS-CORA 2027 will breach any copyright policies of the publisher.
- LUPUS-CORA 2027 does not place an embargo over the submitted abstracts and authors are free to reuse their abstracts.
- Trials in progress are accepted.

1. TYPE OF PRESENTATION, AUTHORS LIST AND AFFILIATIONS

Indicate the type of presentation you wish to submit: the work may be either a poster or an oral presentation.

PREFERRED PRESENTATION TYPE:

- Choose preferred type of presentation.

- Oral communication
 Poster

Complete the following mandatory requirements:

- indicate the date of birth for the author who is currently presenting
- The next fields require entering the authors; you will be asked to select the presenting author and to specify the affiliations.

At this point, by ticking the appropriate boxes, you can indicate whether the “I am the Presenting Author” is the same person submitting the abstract or another author among those listed. (the flag after the name of the author)

LIST OF AUTHORS

- If you are the abstract presenter tick the appropriate field, your data will be automatically copied.
- List all authors in the order in which you wish for them to appear in the abstract summary.
- Enter the complete first name/s (e.g. Henry Bryan).
- Authors with more than one affiliation must provide the relevant affiliation numbers listed below, separated by a comma.
- According to AIFA (Agenzia Italiana del Farmaco - Italian Medicine Agency) regulations, the personal details of all coauthors of an accepted abstract must be included in the final scientific program for AIFA approval. The corresponding author is requested to include type of degree, specialty (area of expertise) and job title of the presenting author in the box during the abstract submission.
